

The CHAMBER

ALLEGANY COUNTY, MD

Executive Director

In just a few days we will host our 7th Annual Golf Tournament and once again we have a full field. Thank you to all of our golfers who will be joining us Friday, May 5. Will Rocky Gap Casino Resort defend their wins from the past two years or will the Bell Tower Cup go to another winner? This event has grown to be a great success for the Chamber thanks to our golfers and our sponsors, including Gold: AES Warrior Run, Chessie Federal Credit Union, Cintas, M&T Bank, Rocky Gap Casino Resort, Verizon, and Silver: Timbrook Automotive.

Lucky Ladies Night Out will be happening June 9 and the committee has been busy collecting basket raffles and working on all of the details that make this a great evening. Thank you to our sponsors The Kristi Agency – Allstate, Bella, LLC, and WEPCO Federal Credit Union.

The month of April was packed with programs, including the Legislative Wrap-Up, a workshop on Maryland Saves, and Like a Woman: Breakfast Edition. Maryland Saves is an important program to pay attention to if you offer payroll through an automatic deposit system. We will be sending an information sheet about this later in the week and I encourage you to check out the basic outline and consider next steps. We went into the Legislative Wrap-Up knowing that our delegation had a tough session debating a minimum wage increase, exhausted their arguments on cannabis regulations, and had to become familiar with a new administration that is one of the most progressive that our state has seen in nearly a decade. It was a long session (yes, we say that every year), but it was a sense of going in knowing that our asks for amendments would likely not be avored. Although there were some wins within the big bills that passed, they were minimal, and the impacts will be felt as early as the fall of this year. What we currently know about family medical leave (FAMLI) is that the cap was set at 1.2% with a 50/50 split, but the implementation (October 2023) will begin at .8 -.9% of gross wages, and the first benefits through this program can be taken as early as January 2026. We will continue to provide updates as they become available, and we will send additional details soon. It is important that you share information about this with your employees as early as possible.

The Chamber has a number of committees which help define some of the work we do. Our Education Committee, throughout April, finalized selections for the FSU/WCBC Student Salute scholarship awards, presented our Teacher of the Year award to Dr. Joseph Thompson at Fort Hill High School, wrapped up Leadership Allegany! Rising with a Class of 2023 graduation, has compiled its list of Outstanding Business Students for the year, and reviewed our scope of work for the remainder of the year. Our Economic Development Committee has been considering its function within the Chamber and we recently convened economic development stakeholders from the cities of Cumberland and Frostburg, the county, and downtown Cumberland to discuss what we might accomplish together that is necessary to the upward trajectory of our community.

Your support of the Chamber allows us to continue this type of work. We are making connections in the community that are important to improving our future, and although we share a great deal of information about events, sponsorships, and advertising, it is through these mechanisms that we are successful. Much of what we do shines a light on your business, and we thank you for seeing the value in our efforts.

Shannon Lewis

ALLEGANY COLLEGE OF MARYLAND
BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Shannon graduated in December 2022 with an associate degree in business administration and is currently working towards a bachelor's degree with the 3+1 program with Seton Hill. She currently works at Hunter Douglas and began employment with them 18 years ago and has spent most of her tenure as a customer support representative. During COVID she was offered an opportunity for a supervisory role within her department.

Moving slowly into that new role, she found a new passion for her job and wanted to learn more in order to drive and lead within the company. She made a joke to her oldest daughter, who was a student at Allegany College of Maryland at the time, that she was going to enroll in school because they needed softball players. She responded with, "Yes, yes you should. Let's do this, mom." So, she did. And thanks to her, Shannon is enjoying this new chapter more than she thought she would. She started her schooling journey, not quite sure where it would take her but now with support and motivation, she is moving forward and can see that she is capable of achieving great things.

Shannon has five children and over the years, learning to be a good listener and be empathic to each of their unique needs, has given her an edge and allowed her to sharpen her skills as a leader. Her leadership style allows her to be empathic to the members of her team, while also allowing them to be in charge of their individual journeys. Shannon has volunteered with the AYEPS (Allegany Youth Enrichment Program) program in Cumberland, Maryland and holds a lemonade stand each year during Lemonade Days in June to support Alex's Lemonade Stand, an organization that supports research finding a cure for childhood cancer.

As she works through her course work and towards more degrees, she hopes to advance her career within Hunter Douglas. Shannon is not sure where each day is going to take her next but is grateful for the opportunities that Allegany College of Maryland has afforded her. Shannon has also started to research the possibility of working towards her master's degree and possibly a doctorate.

The Allegany County Chamber of Commerce recently held a Ribbon Cutting Ceremony to welcome Sixty Pershing Street to the Chamber and to the community. Sixty Pershing Street is home to the Rainmaker/McCoury group's new endeavor — training ACM students for jobs in digital marketing for both business and entertainment platforms. By blending their industry contacts — Spotify, major talent agencies, top music management companies, record companies, music festivals — with their needs as festival producers and touring musicians, they are creating local job opportunities. They are offering paid internship hours on work and interaction with industry professionals in Nashville, NYC, Stockholm, and beyond.

Their goal is to create a workspace competitive with Nashville, New York, Chicago, and Los Angeles. They will be connected to those cities virtually, and when their remote instructors see the workspace, they'll see an environment that's comparable to the best the music business has to offer across the country.

Cutting the ribbon is Stan Strickland, Rainmaker Music. On hand for the celebration was City of Cumberland Mayor Ray Morriss,

Councilwoman Laurie Marchini, Councilman Richard "Rock" Cioni, Councilman Eugene Frazier, Allegany County Commissioner David Caporale, Chamber Executive Director Juli McCoy, Chamber Chairman of the Board Patrick Buck, Immediate Past Chairman Robert Godfrey, board members Molly Beeman, Crystal Bender, Jeffrey Blank, Kristi Minnigh, Rebecca Ruppert and

Chamber Membership Committee members Eric Bowlus, Steve MacGray and Amy Shillingburg. Also attending was Barb Buehl, DelFest liaison, Lillie Strickland, Coordinator for Rainmaker Music, Allegany College of Maryland representatives Dr. Cindy Bambara, John Bone and David Jones as well as numerous downtown Cumberland business owners and friends of DelFest.
